We've All Been RFKD.

A community-driven meme token on Solana
Fair launched June 29, 2026 · Pump.fun

Introduction

Rug Fucked (RFKD) is a community-driven meme token launched on the Solana blockchain on June 29, 2026 through a fair launch on Pump.fun. The project was created without a presale or private allocation, allowing anyone to participate equally. Following completion of the bonding curve, the token migrated to PumpSwap with locked liquidity.

Mission

RFKD embraces one of the most common experiences in cryptocurrency—the rug pull. Rather than hiding from that reality, the project uses humor, transparency, and community to build a recognizable brand centered around resilience. The goal is to create an active community that enjoys meme culture while promoting transparency and fair launches.

The Ruggy Mascot

The official mascot, Ruggy, symbolizes surviving the chaos of meme coins. Ruggy is intentionally worn, damaged, and battle-tested to represent perseverance after countless rug pulls. The mascot serves as the face of the project across all branding and social media.
